The Great Fire of Meadowbrook,,, The Great Fire of London (re-created Meadowbrook style) was finally underway after a week of delays waiting for storm Doris and the bad weather to pass, Year 1&2 finally got the chance to experience the renamed 'Great Fire of Meadowbrook' after creating Tudor houses for a recent homework challenge. As part of the master plan, they were asked to build a replica of a street house or shop in a Tudor style, typical to the era in which the Great Fire of London occurred. The criteria included the houses being between 30-80 cm tall and being constructed of flammable materials. The children were also asked not to get too attached to their creations! The fire couldn't have gone any better and demonstrated how quickly it spread in the narrow lanes of London.

PRI
