

In this section of the weekly Comms, we wish to remind you of the value we continue to place on open communication between teachers, children and parents. Despite the obvious restrictions, we want Meadowbrook to continue to be an inclusive, welcoming, happy and positive environment so getting together for an informal chat, or a formal one, remains high on our agenda. To that end, if you have any questions, niggles, frustrations or praise....PLEASE DO GET IN TOUCH!

Anything to do with your child Class Teacher

Still not satisfied? Contact the Director of Education (DofE). Teachers are also asked to escalate unresolved or continuing issues relating to children directly to the DofE.

Recipe Book

As mentioned last week, we are planning to create our very own Meadowbrook recipe book. The children have seen an example in our community meeting and have been asked to talk about their contributions at home this weekend. Please start collecting your family favourites. We want to celebrate dishes from all around the world and to suit all tastes and needs, so if you have a recipe for a tasty vegan curry, gluten free shortbread or a delicious beef stew, we want to know about them!

I will be asking a couple of children to volunteer to help me with the project and over the course of the coming week, we will be drafting a letter to send out to everyone, so more details soon!

David Tilezhinskii, Year 6, is planning to host a digital Meadowbrook Music Festival and would like to invite children to share their musical talents.

The current plan is for children to make a digital video with their parents, about a minute long, that they then send to the school. David will collate the videos into one compilation that will then be available for parents to watch.

The finer details are yet to be decided, but please encourage your child to start thinking about ways they can contribute and how they could share their skills. We know there are lots of talented musicians and singers in our community and we want to see you!

ZACH ELLIOT!!!

We hope you have a lovely birthday!

Message from FoMM

Although current guidance restricts our community activities, behind the scenes FoMM is still very busy! We are currently working on a number of exciting ideas which support the school's and childrens' wishlist, which we look forward to sharing with you soon!

Harvest Festival

Although we can't hold our usual Harvest celebration, we are still keen to support the charities that benefit from the food collections we make. We will donate to the Bracknell food bank through the Kerith Centre, so any donations will be welcome!

Please bring your tins, packets and boxes to school on Wednesday, 21st October.

Secondary School Evening

Julie and Sarah Jane are inviting Year 3, 4 and 5 parents to join a Zoom meeting regarding secondary school options on Tuesday, 20th October 7pm-8pm.

Please ensure you have considered your options so your teacher can help you find the best way forward.

You will soon receive a letter from Joy with more guidance, but please ask your teacher if you have any questions in the meantime.
